CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 2.—The event of the evening, and indeed the scene of the campaign thus far, was the monster Re-

[illegible]

It is a fact that we have in this country a very high death rate from disease, and that a large part of this is due to the fact that the constitution may be gradually built up until it is so weak that it is unable to resist every tendency to disease. The tendency to disease is usually a slow process, and it is only when the system is so weak that it is unable to resist every tendency to disease that it is so weak that it is unable to resist every tendency to disease.

LOCAL ITEMS.

"Why do you always wear a top hat?" asked Archibald, strolling by the moonlight with the dearest girl in the world. "Oh," she said, "that's my jewel this year; I am a Garfield girl."

Nearly every milliner in the city has complained of poor trade the past week, but we notice that the girls who run the large hat stores in the West, have been compelled to double the number of their employees in order to properly attend to the wants of the continually increasing trade. Why it is we do not know, but it certainly seems a very superior quality of millinery at reasonable prices, in the hands of the celebrated Richmond Cigar Company, located at 101 State street.

This is the great year for coats. They will browse and banquet on rousing campaign posters until they feel, as they are, the first of the season. The new building, which is to be of St. Louis brick and marble trimmings, with a frontage of eighty feet on Washington street and 165 feet on Harrison street, with six doors. The design is elegant, and when completed it will no doubt be the finest carriage establishment in the United States, if not in the world. They hope to have it completed by the 1st of November.

Out of deference to the Presidential election, the Adventists have kindly postponed the end of the world this year to the 1st of November. It would be a blessing to all of us, however, if we are going to have the kind of a time over it as we have had this year, to hurry the thing up and have it over the first of November.

Rochester and the popular merchant, 81 Dearborn street, recently invited their customers and the public generally to an inspection of their fall and winter suitings and overcoatings of the latest importations.

What has become of the phonograph? Any one who is lying around anywhere looking for a sausage stealer?

A large and complete stock of lap-ropes and horse-blankets in all varieties of colors and at very low prices, at Tompkins, Burlingame & Co., 180 Washington street.

The distinguished Rev. Mr. Jasper, of Virginia, is not only convinced that the sun moves around the earth, but that he has received a letter from the sun, dated October 1st, in which it was stated that the sun was well and happy, and that it was looking forward to the year 1900.

The fame of the Bethesda water of Waukegan, as a cure for various troubles, has crossed the seas, and Gale & Block are shipping large quantities to Europe.

A South Hill debating club is wrestling with the question of whether or not women should be admitted to the club. The club is now in a state of suspense, and the members are waiting for a decision.

Turner, tailor, 85 Madison street, will make you a magnificent overcoat at a moderate price. Try one of his suits, and you will be a convert.

"A thing of beauty" remarked the dentist, looking into the patient's mouth. "Is a jaw forever. A dollar and fifty cents, please."

OUT-DOOR RELIEF.

Friends in Palatine—Systematic Perversion of the Charity Fund.

Since the county established the system of out-door relief, whereby thousands of unworthy persons have been made the cheerful recipients of public charity, there have been spasmodic efforts to curb the tendency upon the part of this class of people to continually bleed the patient and unwary taxpayer. So powerful has this influence become of recent years that for any public man to oppose these countless drains upon the finances of the county was to doom him to disappointment so far as political preferment was concerned. Under Democratic administration the amount thus virtually thrown away was enormous and it was not until the present Republican Board of County Commissioners took cognizance of the giant evil that any check was put upon this unwholesome system of relief.

About a year ago the Board, after content and untiring effort, had succeeded, in a measure, in putting a stop to these frauds, but it became necessary to institute personal investigations in many cases, as the Board selected its great visitor, Mr. Chamberlain, to look after all such cases, instructing him to run to cover and expose every case where the county had been swindled by fraudulent charges for goods delivered to persons unworthy of charity. There was no desire to cut off the relief extended to persons who, by reason of infirmities, were unable to provide for themselves, or to say to the poor widow with a large family of little ones that she should not be helped, but to stop the generous and charitable public. The design was simply to effectually stop fraudulent and unworthy applicants from longer imposing upon the people.

Mr. Chamberlain began his researches among the pauper poor, and was at once rewarded by discoveries that in certain outside towns the system of relief had been made a source of revenue to unscrupulous dealers. In all sorts of family supplies, who had charged the county in many instances for goods delivered to people who denied their receipt, and who were willing and perfectly able to take care of themselves. In several instances people who had been dead for years were charged with supplies furnished by order of dishonest or incapable Town Supervisors, and in one case a lady of very respectable connections was presented with a bill for a series of years, and it was afterward found that the county had audited and paid these bills, although the dealer had given his innocent victim to understand that the fuel was a gratuitous offering.

Several weeks ago a couple of Europeans in the town of Lemont were required to explain to the Committee on Town and Town Accounts how it was that their bills for medical attendance upon the indigent poor of that town were so excessive. Investigation of these individual cases showed that about one-third the charges were fraudulent, and the doctors were compelled to virtually acknowledge that they had attempted an imposition upon the people.

Mr. Chamberlain yesterday presented a carefully-prepared report indicating that two more disciples of the curative art have gone astray. This time the attempt to collect exorbitant and fraudulent bills was discovered in the town of Palatine. In this instance one doctor presented a bill for $80, and another has succeeded in collecting $86 from the county for medical attendance upon families residing in Palatine, several of whom have stated that no such attendance was ever had. One young lady, whose parents left her a small fortune, is on the list as having run up a doctor's bill of $150, which the county has paid. Another lady is charged with a bill which the county paid, and the physician has since presented her with a duplicate and requested payment. A widow lady, who owns a farm near the village, employed one of these grasping fellows, who presented a bill of $44 for services rendered. The lady, in lieu of money, gave him a horse, and the doctor, who worked the Palatine end of his scheme with profit, presented the bill to the county, and it was paid the second time. These are samples of the unblinking frauds which, according to the agent, were practiced by these pill-dispensers, and the Committee are to be congratulated upon having brought the facts to light. In the case of the first-mentioned M. D., the family agent who has charged over six visits, stating that his calls did not exceed thirty-five, and relying upon this statement, and the moral aspect of things, the Committee refused to consider the bill, and how will an explanation from the doctor.

The citizens of Palatine express great indignation over the exposure, and assert that their town is in no more need of this kind of charity than the most thrifty portion of the right section of New York State would be. This fact is attested by the records of the County Board, which show that for four years not a single dollar has been paid for out-door relief in the town of Palatine, until four various physicians presented their enormous bills.
